

BA in International Studies - Concentration in Global Conflict

In our increasingly interconnected world, businesses and government agencies have increased their search for employees who understand world issues, especially global conflicts and resolutions. A Bachelor of Arts with a major in international studies and a concentration in global conflict makes you a valuable asset to any organization with whom you choose to work.

This major is designed to prepare students for jobs in the public and private sectors, where globalization is increasing dramatically, or to enter a graduate degree program.

Important Notes

Students are responsible for meeting the prerequisites for various classes. Elective hours may be used to fulfill prerequisites. Students must be a senior and have completed the majority of the major coursework PRIOR to being enrolled in Capstone. It is also recommended that students take advanced (3 or 4) level classes whenever possible to meet major requirements. Minors are not required but are recommended. Speak to your advisor to help you choose a minor that compliments your interests and career goals. Elective hours may be used to fulfill minor requirements. The most commonly pursued minors for INST majors include: foreign languages, political science, history, business, emergency management, and anthropology.
