

World Languages, Literatures & Cultures

Web: worldlanguages.unt.edu Call: 940-565-2404 Visit: Language 101
Chair: Dr. Marijn S. Kaplan

Department Highlights

Our department is a growing, dynamic and vibrant unit with international faculty specializing in diverse fields.

We offer a B.A. in French, German, and Japanese, and an M.A. in French. Our new Grad Track program also allows French majors to complete up to 12 hours of graduate courses during the last year of their B.A. Additionally, we have minors in Arabic, Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Latin, and Russian, as well as a Professional French certificate and a Japanese certificate.

Get Involved

- Numerous cultural events such as the international film festival, the international food bash, interesting guest speakers...
- Conversation tables
- Language clubs
- Various honor society chapters
- Faculty-led study abroad programs
- Like us on Facebook

Also available in our department:

- free tutoring
- placement testing
- proficiency testing
- a state-of-the-art Language Lab
- scholarships

Meet Your WLLC Advisor

Laetitia Knight

Office: Language 101-D

Phone: 940.565.2582

laetitia.knight@unt.edu

