

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION FOR MASTER'S IN APPLIED ANTHROPOLOGY

Eligibility: The Department of Anthropology has a limited number of scholarships of $1,000 to $5,000 each per academic year. In order to be eligible, students must be in their first year of graduate study and enrolled in 9 credit hours per semester for on-campus students or 6 credit hours per semester for online students.

Submission: Students interested in applying for scholarships must submit this application with their application for admission by December 15th for the Fall term. Incomplete applications will not be considered.

Name in full:

UNT Student ID#:

Mailing Address:

Phone:

Date you plan to enter program:

Email:

Please answer the following question on additional sheets of paper:

1. Please describe your research experience in anthropology or related fields.

Research may be interpreted in a broad sense to include proposal writing, literature reviews, fieldwork, data analysis and writing. Possibilities might include independent or group research projects for courses, direct research for faculty, study abroad or field school experiences, participation at conferences or professional seminars, and/or professional projects for an organization.