

Anthropology (ANTH)

The Department of Anthropology (ANTH) offers a Bachelor of Arts degree that gives you the tools to see the world in a different way. Majoring in Anthropology offers you the flexibility to pursue interests ranging from the archaeological to the socio-cultural. An undergraduate focus in Anthropology will prepare you with a unique perspective to make a mark in the world and in your career.

Enhance your marketable skills through:

- Marketable skills for this degree include interpersonal, cognitive, and applied skill areas that are valued by employers, and are primary or complementary to the major.
- Anthropology majors at UNT receive comprehensive instruction in writing, analyzing, and presentation skills. They are exposed to a broad range of training in theory and methodology: ethnography, formulating research projects, in-depth interviewing, and both quantitative and qualitative research methods.
- An Undergraduate Certificate is offered in Applied Anthropology.
- Minors that match well with a degree in Anthropology: Women's and Gender Studies, Geography, Archaeology, Biology, Criminal Justice, Psychology, Education, and International Studies.
