

WHAT'S YOUR MAJOR?

NAME: Alaia

MAJOR: English Literature and Economics with Minors in Spanish and History

CLASSIFICATION: Sophomore

TELL THE STORY OF HOW YOU FOUND THIS MAJOR:

Reading, writing, and researching have always been my passion, so I knew from a young age I would one day study English. My senior year in high school, I took an AP course on Macroeconomics and found myself also enjoying that greatly. When I came to UNT, I was happy to discover I would be able to study both; I made sure to speak with my advisor and create a schedule that allowed me to continue learning about my favorite subjects and cultivate the necessary skills for my future career.

WHAT TIPS DO YOU HAVE FOR FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS:

Relationships with your peers and professors is incredibly important, especially during a time where having face-to-face interaction is not always plausible. Getting involved on campus through clubs and organizations is one way to become more connected, but it is also helpful to reach out to other students in your courses and maintain an open line of communication with your professors.

WHAT'S YOUR MAJOR?

NAME: LaDara

MAJOR: Psychology

CLASSIFICATION: Sophomore

TELL THE STORY OF HOW YOU FOUND THIS MAJOR:

I was fascinated by the functions of the brain, behavioral and mental processes, so I merged my affinity for psychology and pre-med!

WHAT TIPS DO YOU HAVE FOR FIRST-YEAR STUDENTS:

Build a consist schedule that works best for your study habits and ask for help!

