

ACADEMICS

- 3 UNT credits
- WLLC 3100
- Course taught in English!

ELIGIBILITY

- Pre-requisites: None
- Open to All Majors
- Minimum 2.25 GPA

DATES

Application Deadline: February 23, 2022

Depart: May 15, 2022

Return: June 4, 2022

COST

$4,525

in-state, undergraduate tuition rate

Cost includes UNT tuition and fees, application fee, housing, most meals, excursions, and local transportation to program locations.

Additional expenses include airfare, passport, visa, some meals and course materials.

Scholarships and financial aid available.

CONTACT

Professor Caroline Najour, Faculty Leader
Caroline.Najour@unt.edu

Study Abroad Office
FacultyLedPrograms@unt.edu

STUDY ABROAD

MOROCCO

Film and Culture

Explore Moroccan and North African modern histories and cultures through the lens of film and music. Students will examine the roots of some of the most prominent social, cultural, political, and gendered norms often attributed to the Arab World. Diverse materials will enhance students' global competencies and enable them to reflect upon the varied life experiences of people from North Africa.

Students will critically examine Moroccan films to understand social, political and economic realities of Morocco and other cities. Students will learn about the role of Moroccan filmmakers in social and political change and stay with Moroccan families to further develop their global competence and understanding of Moroccan cultures, practices, and gender dynamics.